ISO accreditation points to continued focus by InPayTech on strategic initiatives

Sydney, Thursday 18 July 2019

Integrated Payment Technologies Limited (InPayTech) (ASX: IP1) announces that it has been certified under a significant global information security standard, helping to support the continued expansion of the business under its current strategic review. The ISO 27001 certification is a widely recognised and internationally accepted information security standard mandating numerous controls for the establishment, maintenance and certification of an information security management system.

Chief Technical Officer, Robin Beauchamp said: “This is an important external validation of InPayTech’s information security credentials. Information security is clearly a bedrock requirement for InPayTech, its clients and business partners.

“We are delighted to have met the stringent audit standards of the ISO 27001 certification process,” he said.

InPayTech transacts directly with the Australian Taxation Office and a diverse range of Australian payroll and superannuation organisations.

“Our clients trust us with highly sensitive data. Each demands compliance with industry standards. We are confident InPayTech has the necessary controls in place to meet this expectation and the pre-requisites for the commitment to high levels of security,” said Mr Beauchamp.

InPayTech Chairman Don Sharp welcomed the ISO accreditation and reinforced its importance to the future of the Company, now mid-way through a strategic review.

Mr Sharp said: “It is highly encouraging to see growing external validation of the strategic focus underway inside InPayTech. Part of the net proceeds of the recent capital raising were earmarked by InPayTech to attain and maintain industry accreditations, strengthen the balance sheet and continue with the development of the ClickSuper, STP and PayVu solutions. We are pleased that we have met this milestone.”
